

Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law has been very successful in limiting or eliminating the numerous and incredibly annoying and bothersome sales calls that the average home would receive in a week. My personal family situation was such that we had to resort to not answering any calls at all and we had to screen them through our answering machine before picking up the phone to answer a friend or family member. On some evenings we would receive upwards of a dozen or so such calls. These calls would interrupt meals, work, homework, television programs, family time, etc. Some calls would even occur late at night, hours after we had gone to bed. And typically the callers were very rude when we informed them that we were not interested in whatever they were trying to peddle. Now, after listing our name and number on Indiana's No-Call List, we may occasionally get one or maybe two calls per week. Life is so much better now because of Indiana's action regarding this matter. PLEASE, DO NOT LESSEN OR CHANGE THE EXTENT OF PRIVACY TO INDIANA'S CITIZENS BY CHANGING THIS LAW IN ANY MANNER!!! Thank you.
